

Vehicle Documents

Warrant of Fitness Certificate

- It is a passenger car and motorcycle safety checklist that means if it passes the vehicle should be safe to drive
- Only authorized motor vehicle repairers can issue this
- A vehicle must pass a WOF check before it can be registered
- It is a legal requirement that a current WOF is displayed

Certificate of Fitness

- A Certificate of Fitness applies to trucks, buses, taxis and hire vehicles
- The checks are similar to the WOF but include load and towing checks
- It is a legal requirement that a current COF is displayed
- The number shown on the COF is the month it expires

Licence Label

- Produced by NZ Transport Agency
- Registers the vehicle on the national framework for automotive vehicles
- Licenses the vehicle to be driven on NZ roads

Owner's Handbook

- Vehicle manufacturers provide an owner's handbook for each model
- They come with the car and are usually in the glove box
- Provides information on the vehicle controls, how to use and adjust them

Lubrication Label

- To let the driver know when the next service maintenance check is due
- Regular service maintenance checks are important to keep the vehicle operating safely and running well
- The service maintenance schedule is a tick list that shows each item that has to be inspected adjusted or replaced
